TIPS From GAF

In our Last GAF Sponsored Event, most of the class was impressed to learn this lesser-known tip.

Using "Style D" Drip Edge on the rakes and eaves leaves a cleaner and more desirable look. The drip edge provides support to the shingle and prevents drooping or sagging appearance.

Ask about how a simple "Style D" upgrade could add value to your Next Roof.

IMPACT RATINGS FOR SHINGLES –

What's the difference between CLASS 3 and CLASS 4?

Recently we have announced that IKO Dynasty is now a CLASS 3 impact rated shingle. But what does that mean? How does that differentiate from CLASS 4 and how is that tested?

This short video from HAAG research can answer these questions. You can see the testing equipment and the classifications for the size of the projectile written above the UL Class Designation

Watch the clip HERE!

Another Impact test in the market is the IBHS Impact Test which uses frozen projectiles to replicate natural hail more closely. You can learn more about that test HERE!
