

$25 Reward for “Cosmetic Waivers”

Recently, several contractors have had hail claims denied by insurance providers due to a “Cosmetic Waiver” buried in the policy that homeowners are unaware of. This small print addition to policies is a loophole for insurance providers to deny Replacement Claims after Hail Damage.

Essentially, the waiver states that unless the hail breaks through the mat of the shingle, the roof only has cosmetic damage, and is not in need of replacement.

At Roadrunner we adamantly disagree with this negligent waiver. We understand that a hail damaged roof has a drastically reduce lifespan and many hail damaged roofs will not last more than 5 years before developing a leak, regardless of any “breakthrough damage” to the mat. These waivers are damaging to the industry and the Homeowners. We are supporting a change in these cosmetic waivers!

We will pay $25 for every different insurance policy that shows a cosmetic waiver on asphalt shingles.

Send them to order@roadrunnerroofingsupply.com
A drawing will be held on July 14th for those that send in copies and the winner will receive a $250 gift certificate for any Makita tools in stock.

Notes From Your Roadrunners

Homeowner Advice from TDI

The Texas Department of Insurance is offering Homeowners the following advice about Contractors Waiving Deductibles.

Is it OK for a contractor to waive my deductible?

No. A deductible is part of your home insurance policy. It's illegal for contractors to waive your deductible or help you avoid paying it.

1. How would a contractor help me avoid paying a deductible?

One way is by giving you an estimate that's higher than the actual cost to repair your home or roof. The contractor then uses the extra money paid by the insurance company to cover your deductible. Some contractors might offer rebates or credits in the amount of your deductible. That's also illegal.

2. What's the harm?

Contractors who say they will waive your deductible might be sending false information to your insurance company about the cost of repairs. That would be fraud. And a contractor who offers to waive your deductible is likely making up the difference by cutting corners or using lower quality products. That can lead to more claims and repairs later.

3. How will my insurance company know if I paid my deductible?

Your insurance company can ask for proof that you paid your deductible before it pays the full amount of your claim. You might have to show a canceled check, money order receipt, credit card statement, or a copy of the payment plan with your contractor.

4. How can I protect myself?

- Use a local company. Verify the contractor's local address and phone number.
- Ask the contractor for references and check them. Also look online to find out if they've had complaints or bad reviews.
- Be wary of contractors who go door to door looking for business.
- Get more than one bid. Be careful if one of the bids is a lot lower than the others.

5. What should I do if a contractor offers to waive my deductible?

Talk to your insurance company first. You can also report it to the Texas Attorney General's Consumer Protection Hotline at 800-621-0508. Contractors who illegally waive deductibles could be fined or go to jail.

Pinnacle® Sun Shingles

Pinnacle® Sun shingles are more than just a cool roof solution. With the incorporation of both 3M™ Scotchgard™ Protector and reflective granules, Pinnacle® Sun shingles offer a complete roofing system that not only keeps your home cool, but also fights against unsightly algae growth that can hinder the reflective abilities of the shingles over time.

Driftwood SRI 18 Coastal Cliffs SRI 17 Coral Canyon SRI 17

We have these three colors on the way. The SRI ratings allow for cooler roofs which in turn help keep the properly vented attic cooler and the A/C working much more efficiently. The results can be lower utility cost based on today's utility cost. Future cost increases can improve the overall savings for years to come.

Harness the Power of the Sun

Pinnacle® Sun shingles are manufactured to reflect the sun's radiant heat away from the roof, decreasing cooling needs and increasing the overall energy efficiency of the home. The Solar Reflectance Index (SRI) is an indicator of the ability of a roof surface to return solar energy to the atmosphere, and Pinnacle® Sun shingles are produced to meet the Cool Roof Rating Council's standards for SRI and may comply with city and state building codes for reflectivity.

Inspired by the Power of Trees

Create a smog-fighting surface on your roof. Patented 3M™ Smog-reducing granules are formulated with a photocatalytic coating that, once activated by sunlight, transforms smog into water-soluble ions, helping to improve air quality. With 3M™ Smog-reducing granules, an average-sized roof has the smog-fighting capacity of 2-3 trees, helping to remove smog pollutants, one roof at a time.

More about Solar

Since 2008, Several Presidential Acts that have been signed into law include energy tax credits.

“The combined effect of these laws provides a 30% tax credit on both the purchase and installation of qualifying products in renewable technologies such as solar electric property, electric vehicles, solar panels, heat pumps and other energy-efficient home improvements.

Under these laws VELUX Solar Powered Fresh Air Skylights, and other eligible VELUX Skylights with Go Solar, as well as VELUX residential rigid Sun Tunnel[®] with the solar night light, and VELUX Solar Powered Shades qualify under “Solar Electric Property” expenditures when purchased and installed from January 1, 2009 through December 31, 2034.”
